Your registration does not transfer to other counties in Tennessee. A voter must register in their new county by submitting a voter registration application to their local county election commission office. The voter may either go in person to the local county election commission office or mail the application to their local county election commission office.

All registration deadlines apply to new applications, therefore, the voter must register no later than thirty (30) days before the election. If the voter submits the application by mail, the voter must vote in person at the first election. These rules apply even if you have been registered and voted in another county in Tennessee.

Remember registrations do not transfer from county to county and if the above requirements are not met the voter will not be allowed to vote in that election. To maintain your ability to vote, it is important to register to vote in the new county or state that you move to.
